As a developer you have given a task to complete a form like the above picture is displayed. You have to build the program so that user can search a faculty by using different filters. Once user press search button, your system should fetch the data from database and display the data into HTML table. The program must be developed using AJAX. Database table has been attached on the question file. After you complete, zip your code and the zip file using your ID like 17-22222-1.zip and upload it Portal.
